

Dr. Bush Receives Kettering Award

Noted Scientist Vannevar Bush will receive the Kettering Award for 1961 at the sixth annual public conference of the University's Patent, Trade-Mark, and Copyright Foundation to be held June 14 in Washington.

The award, which is presented annually by the Foundation, is given for outstanding work in the field of patents, trademarks, and related fields, and carries with it a citation and an honorarium.

For 17 years until his retirement in 1955, Dr. Bush served as president of the Carnegie Institution. He is now chairman of the board of Merck and Company.

New Residence Hall Acquired by University

The Drake Apartments at 2119 H Street, N.W., purchased by the University last fall, is now being converted into a women's residence hall to be known as Crawford Hall, and is expected to be ready for occupancy at the beginning of the 1962 fall semester.

The acquisition of the Drake Apartments will enable the University to provide seven residence halls next fall—three for men and four for women.

Fund Committee Reports

Alumni can well be proud of the 1961 Alumni Fund report presented in this Newsletter for it lists the names of almost three thousand alumni and friends of the University who have expressed their belief in the importance of investing in the future of The George Washington University.

The cost of higher education has increased and will continue to do so. Enrollment is due to increase within the next few years at a tremendous rate. In view of these facts, it is obvious that to maintain a superior faculty and student body, increased financial resources must be available in the years to come.

Giving to your University on an annual basis will help assure the continuing excellence of your University. Your contribution to The George Washington University becomes part of an important total investment. For example, this year's annual giving in the amount of $72,306 represents the return at 4 percent on an endowment of approximately 2 million dollars.

If your University is to maintain its standards as a great University in the Nation's Capital, it must have regular, increased financial support. Annual alumni giving is the keystone for the sustained excellence and growth of your Alma Mater.

Hospital Receives $600,000

The University Hospital has received a bequest of $600,000 for cancer research and the care of indigent cancer patients through the will of Mary Cogswell Kinney who died in Washington on January 12 at the age of 84. Miss Kinney's sister died of cancer in 1912.

Electronic Computers Retrieve Legal Data

A major development in the automation of legal research, which will cut to a minimum the delay and drudgery often encountered in research on merger and monopoly cases arising under the Anti-Trust Laws, appears to be emerging in a pilot project now being conducted by the University's National Law Center and the Datatrol Corporation.

John Lyons of the Law Center is engaged in determining an optimum vocabulary to be used in the information retrieval processes which are performed at great speed by electronic computers.

Completion of the pilot project is estimated for mid-February. At that time, the results will be submitted to the Justice Department Anti-Trust Library for an appraisal of the process, based on the limited number of facts "fed" into the machine during the experiment.

Feldman Finishes Court Career at GW

Having completed its regular season with an 8-14 record (two victories more than last year), GW's basketball team had its collective fingers crossed as these lines were written on the eve of the Southern Conference tournament. Last year the Colonial five went to Richmond with a 6-16 mark, only to amaze everyone by sweeping three games to win the championship.

This season, the Colonials' conference record was 6-7, good enough for the fourth seeded spot. They meet Davidson in the tournament opener and, if successful, West Virginia in the semifinal (barring a totally unexpected defeat of the latter at the hands of The Citadel). Davidson was a 95-77 victim of GW at Fort Myer in January, but West Virginia trounced Coach Reinhart's team in both ends of their home-and-home series.

As the regular season closed Jon Feldman, who graduates this year, emerged as top scorer with a 21.9 average. Joe Adamitis, 6-7 sophomore center, was next with a 14.8 mark while Mickey Checkan, a transfer who became eligible in February, shot at a 13.4 pace.

The real talk of GW court followers has been the freshman team which ended its season with a 14-1 record.

Only Bainbridge Prep was able to defeat the Baby Colonials. Coach George Klein's youngsters received wide acclaim after beating Georgetown's frosh, 111-110, in four overtime periods.

REPORT ON THE SIXTH ANNUAL
ALUMNI FUND DRIVE

Message From President Carroll:

To all those alumni and friends whose combined contributions to the Annual Alumni Fund total $72,306.04, I wish to express the most sincere thanks of The George Washington University. The 2,857 contributors have given tangible proof of their desire to develop a greater George Washington University.

The importance of support by alumni to their Alma Mater cannot be overemphasized. Such support should be as generous as possible, for all other potential supporters look toward alumni giving as an expression by members of the University family of loyalty to and confidence in the future potential of their University.

The challenges to our private, independent University in our Nation's Capital are tremendous. If the necessary resources are provided, we can and we will meet them.

THE 1961 REPORT OF THE GENERAL CHAIRMAN

To: All Alumni of the George Washington University

Once again I am glad to report that the alumni of The George Washington University have broken all prior records for alumni giving. The dollar amount contributed, the total number of contributors, and Century Club members have all increased over last year's Fund figures.

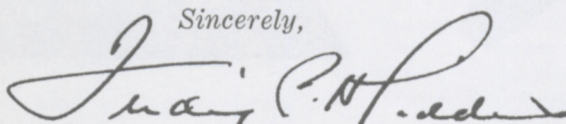

All of us associated with the Alumni Fund gratefully thank the University officials, the University Board of Trustees, the General Alumni Association, the School, State, and City Chairmen, the contributors, and the volunteer workers, and their committees for this successful Fund year.

However, we are still far from comparing favorably in annual giving with educational institutions of similar size.

If the alumni who have not as yet supported their University through alumni giving could understand the pressing needs for financial support to the University, I feel quite sure that they would contribute annually to their Alma Mater.

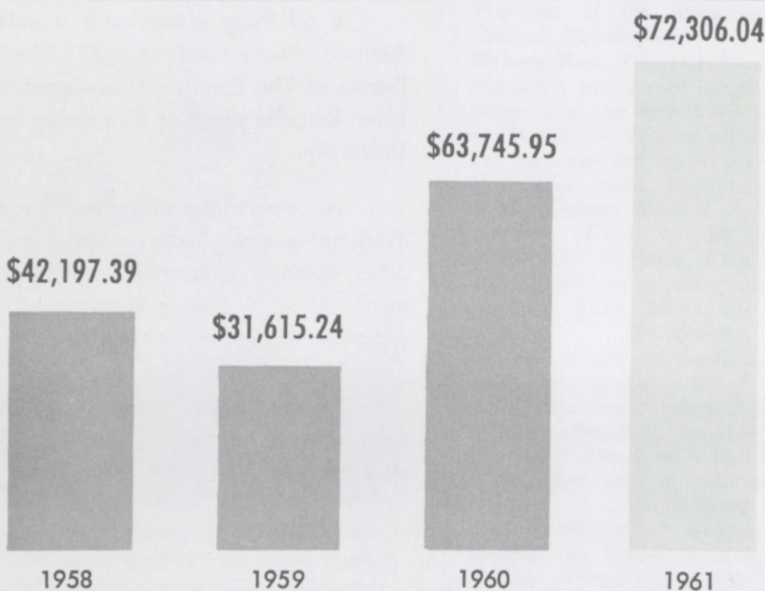

I therefore urge that as many alumni as possible contribute as generously as their means will allow to the 1962 Annual Alumni Fund.

Sincerely,

Frederick P. H. Siddons
General Chairman

Special Programs at GW

Ceremonies honoring the late U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold were held in December in Lisner Auditorium under the joint sponsorship of the University; His Excellency Gunnar Jarring, Ambassador of Sweden; and His Excellency Sergio Fenoaltea, Ambassador of Italy. The principal speaker was the Honorable Professor Gaetano Martino, former Foreign Minister of Italy and Head of the Italian Delegation to the U. N. General Assembly.

Distinguished Theologian Paul Tillich was one of the speakers during Religion in Life Week last fall.

The newly organized University Orchestra, directed by Assistant Professor George Steiner, has presented two concerts this season. The University's program in music, which began in the fall semester, includes courses in music appreciation and history, as well as a practice course in orchestra.

"Russian Art" was the subject of an illustrated lecture given at GW by Leo Teholis, author, artist, and audio-visual educational specialist. The program was arranged by the Department of Slavic Languages and Literatures.

Among Our Prominent Alumni . . .

University Trustee and Alumnus Brooks Hays, LLB 22, has moved from his office in the State Department, where he served as Assistant Secretary of State for Congressional Relations, to an office in the White House where he is Special Assistant to the President. This is Trustee Hays' third presidential appointment—his first was as a Commissioner for the TVA. Prior to that post, he held office as Congressman from Arkansas for 16 years.

J. Edgar Hoover, LLB 16, LLM 17, LLD 35, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and a University Trustee, received the Criss Award presented in December by Mutual of Omaha in recognition of his "outstanding contributions to the personal security and safety of the American public."

Director Hoover's bestselling volume, Masters of Deceit, is now being distributed under a program called "Operation Alert," which provides for mass distribution to educational circles at reduced rates. The project is financed by college alumni throughout the United States.

Fred Korth, LL B 35, LL D 60, who was Deputy Counselor of the Department of the Army and then Assistant Secretary of the Army during the Truman administration, entered the service of the "New Frontier" when he was sworn in as Secretary of the Navy in January.

Robert A. Low, LLB 54, assumed his duties as a member of the New York City Council in January. Mr. Low served as Assistant to Mayor Wagner for three years. He will represent Yorkville and East Harlem for a four-year term in the city's legislative body.

Distinguished Pharmacist R. Roy Miskimon, Phar D 06, died at the age of 82 in Richmond, Va., last January. He is survived by his wife and a son, Dr. Robert M. Miskimon. In 1920 he organized the Western

Ford Foundation Grant

A grant of $57,000 from the Ford Foundation to the University was allocated in January to support a two-year study of the Area Redevelopment Administration and its program of aid to depressed areas.

The study, directed by Dr. Sar A. Levitan under a research appointment at GW, will examine the extent to which the Act has been successful in channeling industry to depressed areas and in stimulating economic activity in those areas.

$2,500 Research Grant

A grant of $2,500 from the American Machine and Foundry Company to the University is being used for research in a new method of measuring blood flow. The study, conducted by Clifford D. Ferris, Assistant Professor of Electrical Engineering, involves the relatively new technique of "magnetic resonance," which it is believed will provide a more accurate measurement of blood flow; furthermore, this technique does not require the severance or exposure of a blood vessel.
